THE NATION'S NATAL DAY,
GLORIOUSLY CELEBRATED IN STAN-FORD.
THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE DRAWN TO TOWN,
WHO ENJOY THE FESTIVITIES OF PA-
THOSIMON'S OWN.

A CREDITABLE EXHIBITION TO ALL CONCERNED.

The glorious 4th was gloriously celebrated here, the occasion proving the reddest letter day in the history of Stanford for many moons. The weather was pleasant; excellent order was observed and but few minor incidents occurred that even slightly marred the general good cheer of the day. Grand Marshal J. C. Florence, with trap,

JUDGE J. P. BAILEY.
Who with Mayor Menzies, led the procession.

Poetry, sword and singing, was a feature, while the two Haynes, McRoberts and Helm, did their part as assistants, with dignity and credit. Many of the ladies of the time of march floated "fairy gowns" and other patriotic costumes, while from the St. Asaph was thrown to the breeze the large silk flag that Uncle Sam's company raised at Mount Pleasant after firing a round of enthusiasm as a salute.

The procession moved with unusual promptness from a point on Main Street and was led by Mayor Menzies and Judge Bailey in a decorated buggy. Judge W. H. Carson, who has been either a magistrate or police judge here for 30 years, followed and then came the floats.

JOURNALS, with scores of pictures of costumed, and for sale parades will make of the paper. By her side in the chariot read the "declaration of independence" with its eloquent speech. There was more music and a patriotic address by the rising young orator, J. Richard Bass, who maintained the fine reputation he is making as a speaker. Mrs. E. P. Adams, of Lexington, sang "Old Kentucky Home" with charming effect, there was more music by band and choir and the morning exercises, after announcement by General Manager A. A. Warren, were over.

In the afternoon after listening to the Hon. Fontaine Fox Bobbitt soar to pyramidal heights on the wings of the American eagle and Col. T. P. Hill, in a volley of fervid oratory replete with patriotism, the crowd enjoyed the races. The bicycle race from the College to Lancaster street, 3 miles, was won by Babe Delordre, the 200 yard race for men, 6 entries, by Ed New, 100 yards for boys, 7 entries, by Walter Jones and the Negro race, 6 entries, by Charley Houghman. The other races did not till and were doffed off.

Geo. B. Warren was clerk of the census and general utility man, who proved a real utilitarian.

The fire company gave an exhibition of their skill in fire fighting at 3 o'clock. The alarm sounded and the cry of "fire" went around. The laddies promptly responded and in short order put out an imaginary fire in the Opera House. This feature created both alarm and admiration, alarm because few knew that it was a false one.

The fireworks under the skilful handling of Messrs A. A. Warren, J. C. McElroy, W. W. Withers and Joe Sevener proved a fitting finale to the many interesting features of the day. Thousands of people lined the side walks and filled court square and cheered lustily when some of the best pieces were fired. We have seen Haynes, himself, give a less creditable spectacle than the management gave us Tuesday night.

Al Warren, the originator of the scheme to celebrate, was almost omnipresent. He saw to all the details, sang in the choir, blew a horn in the band, ran the fireworks and did many other things too numerous to mention. "Eh ha, big day ain't it?" he would say, while taking little credit to himself for it.

The management asks us to state as emphatically as can be that it had no part nor lot in the barbarous gender pulling, which alone marred the doings of the day. The poor bird was suspended to a wire for hours and when finally a number of young men rode rapidly under it and tried to pull off its head its shrieks of pain were pitiable to hear. Every body was relieved when Logan Wood at last jerked off the head. Gender head pulling is the relic of a dark age and ought not to be permitted in these days of law against cruelty to animals. It was now 10 o'clock, the exercises having lasted for 12 hours and proved from start to finish what Stanford can do when she tries. The management is to be heartily congratulated for its efforts and every body, who took part, for the earnest manner in which they entered into the scheme to celebrate the glorious fourth and give the people a day of clean and praise-worthy enjoyment.

J. H. Meier had large samples of his bread and other products, with a sample of boys going for ice cream with a zest. H. K. Warren & Son showed plows, other implements and vehicles, including a fine buggy, in which sat John H. Shanks and Ed Hale courting. Wm. Heck, bedecked carriage containing his family.

A. H. Florence, comprehensively advertising of his business and Obedek's flour. He threw mirror advertisements of the latter right and left, which the boys scrambled to get.

I. M. Bruce had his wife and some young ladies in a prettily decorated vehicle. Severance & Son had a very large float from which they threw base balls bats, caps and belts and created great interest and enthusiasm.

Warren & Shanks had a large cook stove and other things they keep on hand.

D. W. W. Withers had the prettiest of the concoctions—"A Soldier's Dream." It was a model bed chamber on a bed in which Sergt. J. H. Jones lay and dreamt he was enjoying the luxurious surroundings.

As pretty as was this float it would have been much prettier had the 100 feet of smilax and eight dozen carnations pink which were ordered for it, come in time.

Shelton M. Sautley didn't let the Stanford Female College get left, but on a gayly varnished steel carried its colors in great shape.

Mrs. Dr. Steele Bailey, Mrs. St. Clair and Miss Isabella Bailey were in their handsome trap, which was beautifully dressed.

Cook & Farmer had a creditable float telling about their up-to-date torsorial establishment.

Last but not least came the float of Craig & Hucker—a model drug store, with the "Elixir of Life," with which Warren renewes his youth like the eagle.

After passing down Main Street, the procession turned into Whitley Avenue, thence a cross street to Logan Avenue and then back to Main. It was after 11 o'clock, when it got back to the court house, where after the band had played some good pieces and the choir had sung some patriotic airs, Miss Esbie Burch from her high perch on her chariot read the "declaration of independence" with its eloquent speech.

STANFORD, KY., - JULY 7, 1899

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor, WILLIAM GOEBEL.
For Lieutenant Governor, J. C. W. BRECKINRIDGE.
For Attorney General, R. J. BRECKINRIDGE.
For Auditor, GUS G. COULTER.
For Treasurer, S. W. HAGER.
or Secretary of State, C. BRECK HILL.
For Superintendent of Public Instruction, HARRY MCCHESENEY.
For Commissioner of Agriculture, ION B. NALL.
For Railroad Commissioner, C. M. CHORD.
For Representative, M. F. NORTH.

MILTON H. SMITH, ESQ., president of the L. & N., answers the charge of the Courier-Journal that it uses its secret service fund to carry its point in partisan politics by denying that it has been active in the matter, except when it thinks it is confronted by possible hostile and oppressive legislation and saying that it will "immediately and of its own accord quit politics, so soon as all parties unite in determining that the material interests of the State shall be justly protected and promoted. Until this is done, it will, while abusing no privilege granted, use all of its legal remedies to assert and maintain its rights." Mr. Smith also takes a crack at Mr. Goebel and pays his respects to Mr. McChord, both of whom will doubtless be heard from in the matter and very effectively. We take no stock in the hue and cry against corporations, because they are such and it is apparently popular to do so, but we are for the enforcement of the law against them as against individuals and if the L. & N. has done those things that it ought not to do and which are generally charged, it should be held to a strict accountability. Mr. Smith's card shows among other things that he can handle a pen almost as well as he can a big railroad corporation, and that in a battle with cards he can hold a good hand with the greatest of editors.

THE announcement of the retirement of R. Lee Davis from the editorial control of the Richmond Register strikes us with surprise and regret, as we had not heard of his intention to do so. Mr. S. F. Rock, formerly of the Climax, took charge with the last issue of that paper and he will retain Mr. H. R. Pickels at the head of the mechanical department. Mr. Davis is too good a newspaper man to remain long out of the business.

SINCE the American people began to celebrate independence day, the 4th of July was never so generally and so largely celebrated as this year. Everywhere the American flag floats, and that is nearly all over the world, the day was made memorable. The sun didn't set on the celebrations that day, nor does it ever set on the possessions of the United States. Great indeed is this country and greater does it grow all the time.

THE Lexington Leader does the Glasgow News, a former Hardin paper, a great injustice by publishing an article renouncing its allegiance to the party which nominated Mr. Goebel, and crediting it to that paper and that simon pure democratic sheet should call Editor Roberts to task. The News has not only declared its support of the ticket, but keeps it nailed to its masthead.

HERE is one for the boys of the Kentucky press to work out, while they are waiting for the firing to begin again: If Dick Knott lived in Paris which side would he take in the Dreyfus case? This looks easy enough, and we will present the person sending the first correct answer with a subscription account of two years' standing against a citizen of Clay county.—Glasgow News. The wrong side. Send the bill.

TAYLOR now claims several hundred more votes than are necessary to nominate him on the first ballot for governor. But what shall it profit him, if he gain the whole number and then lose out in November as he is sure to do? The party that puts up such a man as Taylor, when it has a Stone and a Pratt asking for the honor, courts the defeat that is already assured.

WM. REMINGTON'S now Paris Democrat is before us and is just such a paper as one might expect from that experienced newspaper man. It is a five-column, all home print quarto and seems destined to make room for itself in a town already well supplied with newspapers.

A GEORGIA paper suggests that Gov. Bradley adopt the same plan with the United Clay county feudists that the United States has with the Cubans—pay them $75 each for their rifles. 'Wouldn't work in Clay though. They would take the $75 and buy a whole arsenal of guns.'

THE Louisville Dispatch pretends to be hesitating whether it will support the ticket or not, after doing it all the dirt it can. As for our part we hope it will decide, after consultation with the L. & N., not to support it. Since its alleged sell out, its support is worse than its condemnation. Besides with the Courier-Journal flying the ticket under a very gamo democratic cock, the existence of the Dispatch is no longer necessary or desirable.

BILL BECKNER, of Winchester, who by accident was elected to fill out a term in Congress, and of whom the late Senator Beck said that he had seen 20 pictures of Judas Iscariot, no two of which were alike, but all looked like Bill Beckner, is out in a "keerd" in the Dispatch saying that he loves his country better than party regularity and will not support the ticket. Good Bill is a hoodoo to any cause and a Jonah to any ticket.

THE Louisville Post is tearing its little nether garment in its effort to say mean things about Goebel, but Editor Knott is gnawing a file. He has no standing in a democratic court and what he says has weight at all with democrats. There are those who say he is subsidized, but the most charitable construction of his words and conduct would be that he is crazy.

WE plead guilty to the soft impeachment made by the London Echo that we were a strenuous advocate of Goebel, his election law and all, but denounce the statement that we would have kicked out of the traces had he not been nominated. We stated before hand that the work of the convention would have our hearty approval, no matter who it nominated.

IT is said that over 300,000 drummers have been thrown out of jobs by the formation of trusts, made possible by republican maladministration. As these fellows are all good talkers, they will do some lively talking against the party in power and it safe to estimate that they will influence at least enough votes to make them count 1,000,000 for Bryan.

WE regret to see our esteemed friend and fellow newspaper servant, Green R. Keller, of the Carlisle Mercury, take his defeat for Secretary of State so ungraciously. He says he will support the ticket, but at the same time says things he may regret in the future. A life long democrat oughtn't to sully his record by writing as he does.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL never has to say it will support the democratic ticket. That goes without saying. And this time we are more enthusiastic over than ever. There couldn't have been made a better ticket than the one that heads this page. In November it will be Eclipse first, the rest nowhere.

IF the republican convention will throw 'em all overboard and nominate a decent man like Col. John W. Yerkes for governor, the party might be able to give the democrats some trouble, but with Taylor leading a forlorn hope, our victory will be an easy one.

JOHN KIRK is serving his last term in Congress. The voters do not take to tin horn politicians and will retire him in favor of James M. Richardson, prison commissioner and editor of the Glasgow Times, who is as bright and brazen as he is deserving and popular.

CINCINNATI has a dog that plays the piano, but if he can't do it any better than some of those, who play it around here, it is to be hoped that he will be immediately sent to the sausago factory.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

The auditor's statement shows that there is $395,148.70 in the State treasury.

The social labor party has put out a State ticket headed by one Schmutz, of Louisville, for governor.

It is telegraphed that "Quinine Jim" McKenzie, who was minister to Peru under Cleveland, is about to lose his eye sight.

Ex-Gov. Stone, of Missouri, tried to kill a reporter who asked him an impudent question about the receivership of a certain bank.

Judge J. C. Chenuau, editor of the Richmond Climax, is a candidate for county judge, a position he creditably held for 10 years ending in 1894.

Secretary Gage says the exodus of gold need cause no concern. He does not think it can exceed $20,000,000, and says it will be returned when we want it.

A special election for a congressman to succeed the late Silver Dick Illand, in the 8th Missouri district, will be held Aug. 29 and the woods are full of candidates.

There is a probability that John R. McLean, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, may be nominated by the democrats for governor of Ohio, who will boom him for president.

The Courier-Journal now appears with the democratic ticket at its masthead, but the Dispatch is mumbbling and grumbling to itself like a nigger wench with the rheumatics—Nelson Record.

Chairman A. W. Young has called a meeting of the democratic State central and executive committees at Frankfort, July 11, to discuss plans for the campaign and to transact other business.

Mott Ayres, of the State Central Committee of the First district, says: Aside from a few crooked railroad lawyers who have received their orders from headquarters, no opposition can be found to the ticket.

On a writ of habeas corpus Collector of Internal Revenue Comingsore was discharged from custody of the sheriff of Kenton county, who held him for contempt of a State court, by Judge Evans, of the United States court.

Senator Goebel, ex-Senator Blackburn, Judge Tarvin, Judge Redwine and Senator J. M. Thomas, of Paris, are already at Katili Springs, and others are expected. The object of the meeting is to map out a plan of campaign.

Hon. John W. Lewis, of Washington county, one of the big republicans of his section of the State, is among those who think it would be fatal to the party to nominate Taylor, or any other strong factionist for governor at the Lexington convention next week.

Charles W. Bell, principal of the Harrodsburg graded schools, has announced as a candidate for the office of superintendent of public instruction, subject to the action of the republican State convention at Lexington. Prof. Bell married Miss Maude Myles, grand-daughter of Mrs. Hannah Poett.

The Madison county democrats, in convention at Richmond, renominated Hon. W. W. Combs for representative, and adopted resolutions pledging their hearty and unwavering support to the entire State ticket nominated at the recent Louisville convention, and to earnestly work for its success in No vember.

Gov. Bradley says "there is absolutely no truth in the statement of a Louisville custom house official that I will place Mr. Taylor in nomination at the Lexington convention next week, for the governorship. If his name is not presented to that body until I don't, he will not be before the convention for any office."

After reading all the law books on the subject and finding no remedy that is feasible, Gov. Bradley says: "If any man can figure out to me how under the existing conditions of kinship and thorough organization I can satisfactorily put an end to the Clay county trouble and punish the guilty ones, I will resign my office in his favor."

A new party to be known as the United Christian Party was launched at Des Moines, Ia., Tuesday, when it nominated a State ticket. Its platform is: "We believe in direct legislation of the people, and, in order to make a government, a government from God through Christ, we should be governed in all things, law making included, by the standard: 'What would Jesus do?'"

Remembering his own experience Col. Breckinridge says in the Lexington Herald: "Can't the women of Lexington get together and offer a reward for the capture of 'King' Goebel? If this method should prove on the present occasion as effective in ridding the State of a nuisance, as it was in a former instance, the feminine portion of our population will again deserve our undying gratitude."

Col. Ike Morgan, of Harrodsburg told the Cincinnati Enquirer that Goebel will get the full strength of the democratic party in our county (Merger). He was our second choice. The State will go democratic by 30,000, and we do not propose to let John Whalen in Louisville, and the manipulators in the Eleventh Congressional district count us out again as they did in 1896.

In opening his campaign for U. S. Senator from Texas, Joseph W. Bailey said that if McKinley would step down and Bryan should take his place at the helm of the nation the war in the Philippines would stop in 48 hours.

He said history told of a Roman proconsul to Sicily who stole $4,000,000 and he declared that a military governor of the Philippines appointed by Hanna would steal $100,000,000, half of which he would convert into a conscience fund and contribute it to the republican campaign fund.

Champ Clark, the Missouri congressman, says that nothing but death can prevent Bryan, from being the next nominee for president. He grows stronger all the time and if things continue as they are now he will be elected hands down. We will not only reaffirm, but readopt the platform of 1896, and add strong anti-trust and anti-expansion planks. Also planks, strong as can be made, against a large standing army and in favor of an income tax and of economy.

WHO HILLY IS.—W. C. Owens has issued a statement that he will vote the republican ticket in November, but this seems to have created no consternation in Georgetown, or elsewhere.

Mr. Owens is the man who was once elected speaker of the Kentucky House of representatives and the next session couldn't muster a dozen votes. He is also the man who was booted into Congress by the skin of his teeth, by the combined efforts of democrats, republicans, prohibitionists, women and preachers, over Col. Hilly Breckinridge, when the latter was under heavy fire, and made such a record during one term that he was not seriously mentioned for another. We don't think there will be found a very big hole in the democratic party at the place W. C. Owens broke out.—Owensboro Messenger.

THE reduction of the price of the subscription of the INTERIOR JOURNAL to $1 was a master stroke. We are now printing 5,000 papers a week and the ery is still the subscribers pour in.

THE premiums offered by the Hustonville Fair are the most liberal ever offered in Central Kentucky and they will bring stock from the four quarters. Hustonville people don't know how to do things by halves.

STOLEN.—A valuable bay mare belonging to Beazley Bros., the liverymen of this place, was stolen from Pruitt Bros' livery stable at Moreland last night. See "ad." in another column. B. G. Alford had driven her to place.

VEATCH.—W. R. Veatch, who married a daughter of F. G. Braly, of this place, died at Bradfordsville and was buried there at 10 o'clock yesterday. Consumption, with which he had been troubled for several years, caused his death. Besides his wife, two children, both grown, survive.

A SWEET SCENTED SHIRT.—A fellow who gave his name as O. W. Prather and claimed that he represented the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, spent several days at Mrs. Joe Coffey's boarding house and left without even saying "I'll pay you later." He undoubtedly represented the paper as the lying dispatch he sent to it about the disaffection hereagainst Goebel proves. That's the kind of cattle that are fighting Goebel and trying to make it appear that the leading democrats are against him. They make their lies out of whole cloth to fool the unwary.

CUT.—During the bicycle race Tuesday, Herman, the 15 year old son of W. A. Lewis, asked John Lunsford, a boy of 16, why he told Jim Crabbree that he stole his apples and threatened to whip him, if he didn't correct it. Lunsford jerked up a rock and threw it at Lewis, knocking his hat off and as Lewis stooped down to pick up a rock slipped up and hit him in the bone in his arm. Lunsford was immediately arrested and his trial set for yesterday, when it was continued till tomorrow at 9 A. M. The boy is badly cut and as some leaders are severed it is feared that his fingers will be stiff.

A THOUSAND DINGUES

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, 1112 Main St., Philadelphia, Pa., when told that the new Anastigmat lenses she had purchased had completely cured her of her long-standing cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"it soon relieved me of all trouble and I can sleep soundly something I was scarcely accustomed to before." "I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c and $1. construction.. Dr. Percy Benton has a veritable mansion near the fair grounds, while Rev. A. J. Pike is just completing a dwelling big enough for a colony of people. Frith & Dunn and Fullen Fransen, of the Frith Hotel, are both materially improving their places of business.

I was glad to find the democrats in that section so well pleased with the State ticket and I predict that Rockcastle will do her duty when the November election comes. There are not a dozen "sore" men in the county.

My old friend D. R. Totten, who although a republican, helps the democrats occasionally, is thinking about running for representative, and if he does, the democrat will stand a good show to win. The rads will likely nominate H. J. Betherum and the votes that Mr. Totten will pull from him will very materially help the democratic nominee, whoever he be.

The fair is the all absorbing theme in and around Brodhead and vast arrangements for it are already being made. The officers say that the exhibition this year promises to greatly eclipse all previous efforts.

The amount of business done at Brodhead is surprising. People come down from Livingston and other points South to get the bargains offered by her merchants, who have large and well-kept stocks. There are few better stores in any town than those kept by Frith & Dunn, J. Thomas Cherry, Martin-Protheroe Co., J. H. Hilton and A. E. Albright.

I am indebted to Jacob Elder, of Beech, for valuable assistance in getting new subscribers, &c.

W. A. Hall is rather discouraged over his wheat yield. He had in 50 acres and only got 398 bushels, which he sold to J. H. Baughman & Co., at 65c.

J. G. Martin lost a valuable milk cow from "black leg" and David Tudor a calf from the same cause yesterday.

HUBBLE

Wheat is short from 6 to 10 bu. per acre, on the ordinary crop, so far as has been threshed. Mrs. Jas. Williamson and Bright Sutton are visiting in the Kingle Mountain neighborhood.

Pony Bosley was here Monday looking after some good feeding cattle. F. P. Bishop is plastering his dwelling. Howard Taylor has contracted to build James Swope's large tobacco stock barn.

Elder J. W. Masters, of Corbin, will preach at the Christian church here Sunday morning and night. Dr. O. Bannon was called to see A. C. Carman, who has been sick for some days. We have not heard the Dr.'s diagnosis yet, but it is thought the nomination of Goebel has had something to do with it. Master Joe Walker took a horse back trip over to see his uncle near Lexington this week.

Geo. Wood had a large red and white spotted milk cow to get out of his pasture about two weeks ago and he has not heard of her. Will some one be so kind as to tell a good man where he will find her? Prof. Lipscomb and wife, of Columbia, Missouri, are visiting her father, James Robinson, here. Ben Hughes sold five acres of tobacco in the field just as it stands now, to Jas. Swope for $27.50 per acre. Dave Walker, of S. C., is visiting his brother.

To make sure of one Mrs. Lizzie Brown, of Vincennes, promised to marry two men the same day and she took the first one that came along.

Dr. Charles R. Hemphill, who has been pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Louisville, 14 years, has resigned to become a teacher in the Southern Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

President B. C. Hagerman, of Hamilton College, Lexington, is scheduled to preach at the Christian church at 11 A. M. Sunday, but in the event he can not get here Mr. Joe Severance will occupy the pulpit.

Rev. W. S. Grinstead baptized seven and received 12 into the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon at Rudell's Mills, the result of the recent meeting held by Revs. Neal and Crain.—Paris Kentuckian.

Thousands of Endeavorers are attending the International convention at Detroit and the colors of red and white are displayed everywhere. Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark was re-elected president, John Willis Haer was re-elected secretary, William Shaw treasurer and A. Judson Arrick was chosen president for Kentucky.

The members of the Bellevue Christian church secured an injunction to prevent its pastor, Elder R. D. Hardin, who used to preach at Somerset, from entering the building. The congregation fired him for stirring up trouble in the church and locked the doors against him, but he broke the locks and preached anyway last Sunday.

LANCASTER.

Judge H. T. Noel, of Knoxville, has been on a visit here. Will Beazley, of Crab Orchard has taken a position in Stormes' drug store. Frank Frisbie will open a drug store in the new hotel building.

The country residence of Mrs. Ann Broaddus was destroyed by fire with all of the contents. A large stock barn, the property of Hunley Singleton, was also destroyed by fire. The loss is heavy with no insurance. The cause of both fires is a mystery.

Robert Whittaker, oldest son of Robert Whittaker, of Garrard, fell from a window head foremost, his head striking an eight-penny nail in a board, which drove its way through his head. A surgical operation was performed and the boy is improving.

RUSSELL SPRINGS

AS SEEN BY A LINCOLN COUNTY MAN.
KIMBIE, July 3.—I have just spent one week at Russell Springs and I want to say a few words through your paper about this place, the water and the people. Anyone to come here now who has not been here for five years, would not know the place. They have three good dry goods stores, one grocery store and are now building a fine drug store and new residences by the dozens. The proprietor of the Springs, Wm. Vaughan, has just completed a two-story hotel with 10 large rooms with beds good enough for a king to sleep on. The table is furnished with the very best that the country affords. The dining room and kitchen are conducted by his estimable wife, her two daughters and Mrs. Ada Vaughan, which means that you will be waited on nicely. The board is only $1 a day.

It has been the custom for years to have a picnic on the 4th, but as there was to be one nearby on that day, they decided to have this one on the 1st and just let me tell you they were here from all quarters. Lincoln, Casey, Franklin, Wayne, Cumberland and Clinton were all represented.

The crowd was estimated at from 2,000 to 3,000 and I never saw a better behaved crowd than this, scarcely any drinking.

Last night I attended one of the biggest prayer meetings I ever attended, both brethren and sisters offering upable prayers. I will just say that any one that wants to go to some place to get rest, good water and good grub, just come to Russell Springs. J. W. P.

LAND AND STOCK.

FOR SALE—Six cows, 61 pigs, 21 100 pound shanks, John Cook.

Roy S. Benzel sold to Wm. Myers of Boston, a 4-year-old carriage gelding for $250.

Powell & Harper delivered to Emma McCormack 56 lambs that averaged 89 pounds.

The Wayne County Record reports the sale of two-year-old steers at 4½c and another bunch at $20.

The Paris News reports sales of 317 export cattle, running in weight from 1,210 to 1,450 pounds at $14 to $16.

W. M. O'Neal's barn in Woodford burned and with it three mules, 400 bushels of wheat, lot of corn, &c.

Wm. Hawk, of Harrison, raised 92 bushels and 23 pounds of wheat on 24 acres that tested 62½ bushels to the acre.

Ebelbert, the favorite, won the rich Realization Stakes at Sheepshead Bay by a dozen lengths, before 20,000 people.

John B. Parks sold a bunch of export cattle to Weihl, at 1,490 and 1,480, immediate delivery.—Richmond Pantry.

Ed and Harvey Prewitt sold to John Embry 96 cattle to go in July at $16. He also bought 30 cattle of Sid Hart at 4.80.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Josiah Bishop, who is not only a good farmer but a good feeder, tells us he put 100 pounds each on 49 cattle last month, and did almost the identical thing the month previous.

Madison county farmers think the short crop must raise the price and will hold their wheat. The prevailing price is 65c. The yield in the county will be less than 10 bushels to the acre, which is in the reach of anyone.

Sam H. Hawkins broke the record among our sheep-growers last year, and he makes equally as good a showing this time. From 25 ewes he raised 30 lambs. After reserving eight of the choice ewe lambs, he sold 22 that weighed 2,295.—Anderson News.

At the cattle pens Monday, there were about 800 cattle, but the market was drab. Four cents for heifers and 5 cents for steers were the prevailing prices. Few sales were made in the forenoon, but the market was brisk in the afternoon. About 1,600 sheep were offered, prices ranging from 3½ to 4½c.—Richmond Register.

The Mercer county wheat crop is only one half the average yield. The quality, however, is extra. The grain is large and plump and runs from 60 to 62 pounds to the bushel. Last year, few crops went above 58 pounds. John Brewer, of near town, threshed, last week, 735 bushels of wheat off of 30 acres, or 51½ bushels to the acre.—Harrington Sayings.
